Google's advice to applicants

“Beware. Your degree is not a proxy for your ability to do any job. The world only cares about — and pays off on — what you can do with what you know (and it doesn't care how you learned it).

And in an age when innovation is increasingly a group endeavor, it also cares about a lot of soft skills — leadership, humility, collaboration, adaptability and loving to learn and re-learn.

This will be true no matter where you go to work.”

This group is for people who like to mix philosophical discourse and drinking. If you're looking for carefully moderated debate, look elsewhere. These discussions are unstructured intellectual free-for-alls - the only two constants are booze and a keen interest in the nature of reality and human existence. We take philosophy very seriously, but we don't think taking it seriously demands that you act like an academic when discussing it.

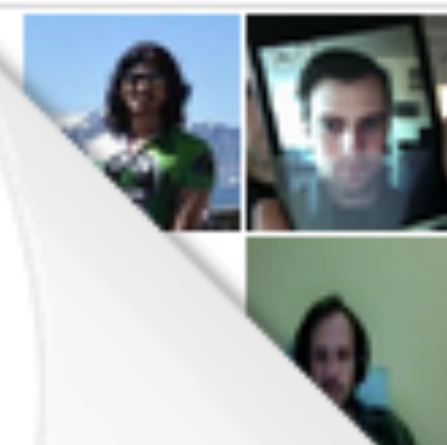

No formal training is necessary - no one will be expected to be able to parse words like "epistemological" or "normative" without some explanation. We welcome anyone who has a fierce curiosity about the big questions - questions about ethics, free-will, consciousness, language and meaning, aesthetics, etc - and isn't satisfied with the usual explanations.

860: 72 Residue Monomer Design

Expires: 03/21/14 23:00:00

Top Group: Anthropic Dreams
Top Player: caglar
Top Score: 10,092
Categories: Design, Overall

This is a single-chain design puzzle with 72 residues. This puzzle is similar to Puzzle 854, with a few key changes: the Core Exists filter requirement has been relaxed and may allow more "adventuresome" designs; in addition, the Fragment Filter has been omitted, although it may return in a followup refinement round. As usual, the Residue IE Score monitors that all PHE, TYR, and TRP residues are scoring well. The Baker Lab will run folding simulations on your solutions for this puzzle, and those that perform well will be synthesized in the lab. Remember, you can use the Upload for Scientists button for up to 3 designs that you want us to look at, even if they are not the best-scoring solutions!

! Help me fix my last picture of mom (self.pics)

submitted 4 years ago * by elmstreeter to /r/pics

My mother died of cancer yesterday. This is the last picture of us together and I wondered if anyone with mad Photoshop skills could touch up the picture and remove the oxygen cannula. I would greatly appreciate anyone who could be of assistance.

How can libraries help us to understand and heal ourselves?

"I think people in this country have had enough of experts"

"it really doesn't matter what the media write as long as you've got a young, and beautiful, piece of ass."

"Ruin is the destination toward which all men rush, each pursuing his own best interest in a society that believes in the freedom of the commons."

Garrett Hardin

“He who receives an idea from me, receives instruction himself without lessening mine; as he who lights his taper at mine, receives light without darkening me. Ideas should freely spread from one to another over the globe, for the moral and mutual instruction of man”

Thomas Jefferson
